By Scott Nolan

Key: A

Harmonica: A

Verse 1:

[I] Arkansas, my [IV] head hurts, [I] I'd like to stick around and try to [IV] make it [I] worse

[I] I gotta girl down in [IV] Henrietta and her love is like tornodo weather
[IV] It's girls like this that keep me trying, [I] she goes off like an air raid siren
[] Come in clean, leave torn apart. [] Bad liver and [] broken heart

Verse 2:

Indian summer, Oklahoma sunset, if there is a nicer place I haven't been there yet.
Standing outside of the blue door, too tired for sleep too drunk for more
It's nights like these that keep me trying, a woman knows when her man is lying
It ain't me I'm just playing a part, bad liver and a broken heart
Bad liver and broken heart

Verse 3:

I'll get old before I'm good at this, who's the president, what year is it Does anyone speak about the truth anymore, maybe that's what songs are for You're the wind and I'm on fire, in this line of work no one retires
Come in clean, leave torn apart

Chorus

Bad Liver and a broken heart
Bad Liver and a broken heart
Bad Liver and a broken heart
